

For over 50 years, Kemper System waterproofing and surfacing technology has been protecting some of the world's most valuable properties and landmarks – from the top of the new World Trade Center to the U.S. Capitol dome, from the scorching heat of Puerto Rico to the ice and freezing temperatures of Alaska.

Today, with offices in 30 countries, we are the world leader and innovator of the highest quality, cold liquid-applied, fully-reinforced waterproofing and roofing membrane systems.

Kemper System products are available in a wide array of colors to meet any design specification, whether matching an existing or historically accurate color palette or fulfilling a vision of tomorrow for today's architects. For more information on how Kemper System products can stand the test of time on your next project, contact us today.
